

HOSTED APOLLO ELD SOLUTION

assured Techmatics and apollo ELD self-hosting with development and customizations support

The assured Techmatics - apollo ELD platform is deployed on your servers or we can provide co-location services with full server access.

Flexible packages help you support the hosted environment with additional customizations and an extra layer of branding and uniqueness. assured Techmatics' proprietary information and intellectual property are protected with the encrypted database and web services, but the portal and mobile ELD app can be customized to your preferences. Environment must remain connected to the internet in order to guarantee operational continuity.

“The most driver-friendly, easy-to-use ELD solution hosted and controlled by you, with flexible support and customization packages”

Access to the servers

Both, you and assured Techmatics support personnel have access to the servers with different access layers (customizable and protected information).

Continuity

As long as you fully comply with the software license agreement and billing terms, you own the ELD solution and only you decide when the service is interrupted.

Pay as you Grow

Initial solution deployment fee plus a number of asset licenses to help your ELD environment grow as your business grows.

Customization packages

You can deploy a turn-key solution, as it is, and order customization packages with guaranteed delivery times.

The most user-friendly, easy-to-use, reliable ELD solution
